T W TWYFORD SANITARY POTTER

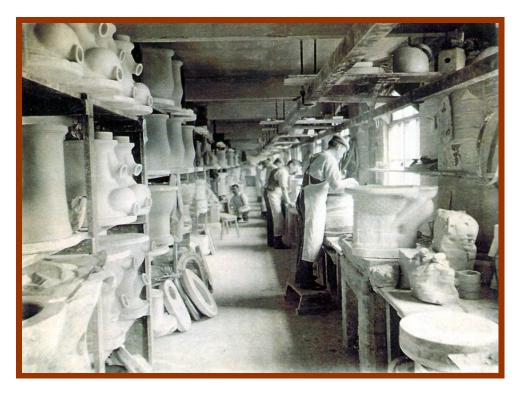

Thomas William Twyford, 1849-1943, leading sanitary potter of his day "Ceramic Water Closets," Munroe Blair, 2000 (CIBSE Heritage Group Collection)

Twyford's Canal Bank Works, 1951 (Gladstone Pottery Museum)

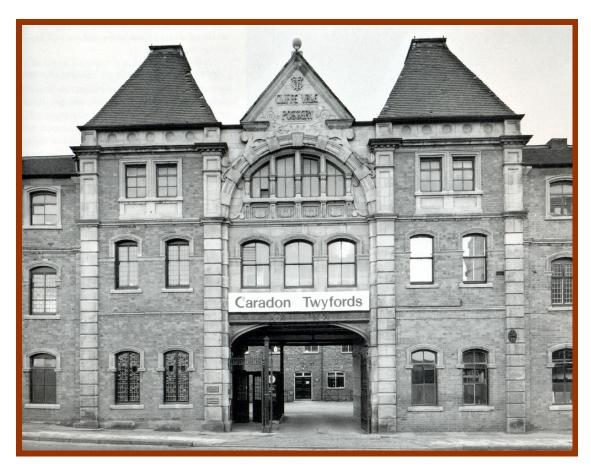

Another view of Twyford's Works, early 1900's

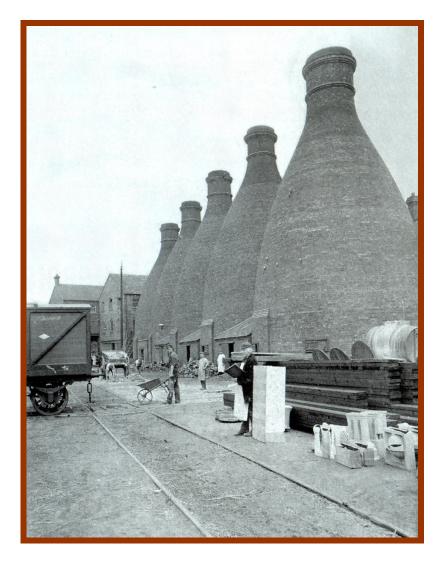

Making the syphon jet closet at Twyford's Cliffe Vale factory in 1898 (Blair)

Twyford's Cliffe Vale Sanitary Ware Factory built 1879 "Potworks," Diane Baker, Royal Commission for the Historical Monuments of England, 1991 (CIBSE Heritage Group Collection)

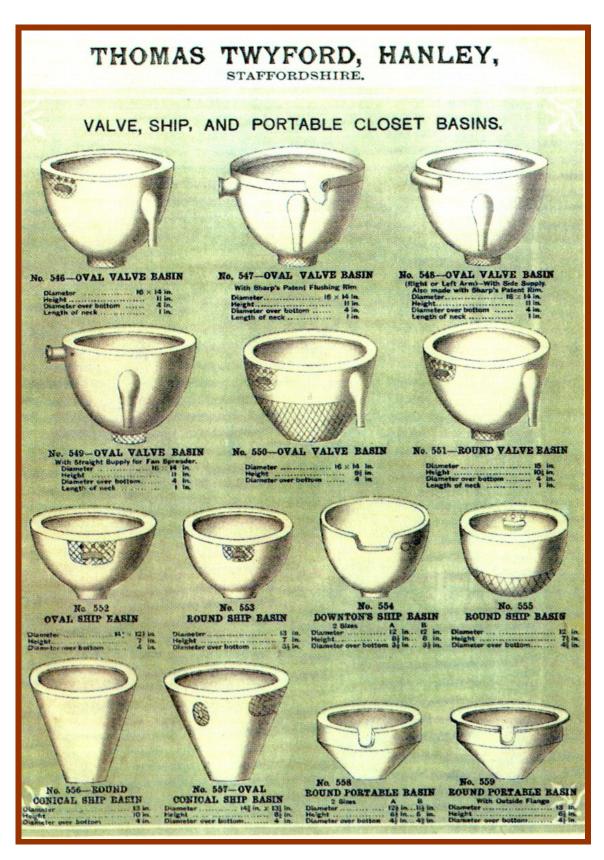

Entrance to Twyford's Cliffe Vale Pottery (Baker)

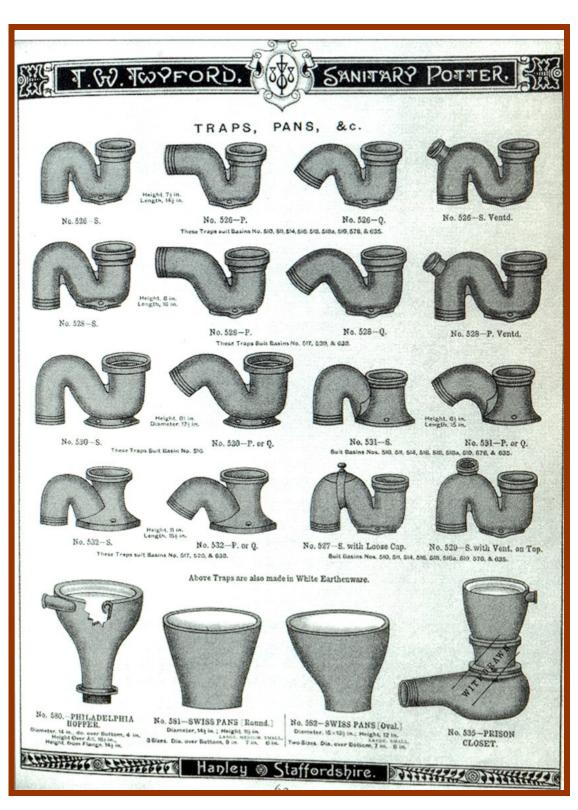

Glost ovens (for firing glazed ware) at Twyford's Cliffe Vale pottery, c.1898 (Twyford Bathrooms)

Twyford advertisement, The Ironmonger, 21st May 1898

Twyford Catalogue showing Valve-Closet Basins (Blair)

Twyford Catalogue showing WC Traps & Pans (Blair)

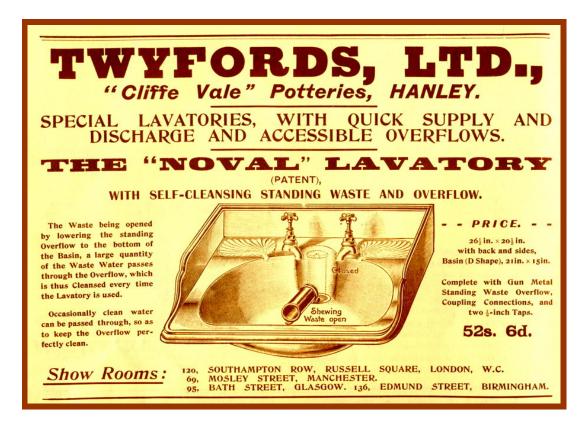

Twyford's 1894 Catalogue showing Wash-Down WC Basins "Bogs, Baths & Basins," David J Eveleigh, 2002 (CIBSE Heritage Group Collection)

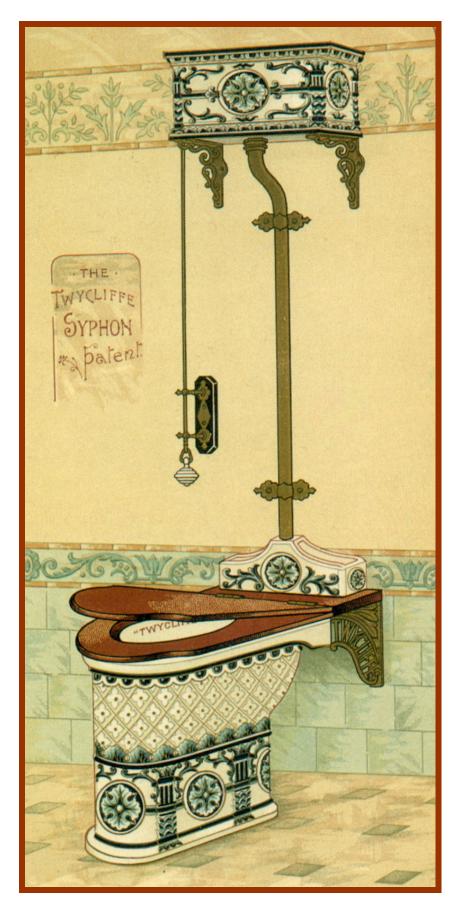

Catalogue of T W Twyford, 1885 for the all-in-one, wash-down, pedestal closet "Competence and Commitment," Nigel Watson, The Institute of Plumbing & Heating Engineering, 2005 (CIBSE Heritage Group Collection)

Twyford's "National" WC bowl which won the "Highest Awards" at the International Medical & Sanitary Exhibition at South Kensington, 1881 "Temples of Convenience," Lucinda Lambton, 1995 (CIBSE Heritage Group Collection)

Twyford advertisement: Plumbing, (Special Centenary Issue), No. 67 Autumn (October) 1986 (CIBSE Heritage Group Collection)

The "Twycliffe" Patent Syphon WC Closet Basin (Eveleigh)